AFTERNOON DISPATCHES

Senator Jones Wants to Make a Mammoth Monopoly.

A U. S. Board of Railroad Commissioners—Teller Decides against the Northern Pacific—Taylor is Dead.

Associated Press Dispatches.]

WASHINGTON, June 10. — Senator Jones introduced in the Senate to-day a bill now in the Judicial Committee of the House, in which it was introduced by Representative Ellis, by which he proposes to allow the Mexican Pacific Railroad Companies of New Mexico, Arizona, Los Angeles and San Diego Railroad Companies of California and the Southern Pacific Railroad Company of California, to consolidate under the name and style or the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, and confers upon the first three named companies or consolidated companies all the franchises, rights, authority, etc., granted to and the privileges conferred upon the Texas Pacific Railroad Company by the Act of March, 1871, relating to that part of the Texas Pacific Railroad situated west of the Rio Grande, and confirming to them the grant of public land made to the Mexican Pacific by Act of March, 1871. The condition attached is that all of the railroad companies shall be operated as one continuous line.

CANNOT APPLY A LAW TO IT.

WASHINGTON, June, 10.—Townsend, of the Committee on Commerce, has prepared a report on inter-State commerce which he will submit to-morrow. The report, after considering at length the difficulties in adjusting railroad fares and freights, concludes that no set of laws could possibly meet the complications constantly arising, and considers that the Reagan bill, or a similar measure, would do great harm to the shipping interests of the country. The report then recommends a bill providing for three commissioners, with salaries of seven thousand five hundred dollars a year, to be under the control of the Secretary of the Interior. The Board shall have power to call on common carriers for reports of all rates and charges. The Commission is to be appointed by the President, by and with advice and consent of the Senate, and is to hold office for five years. Action on the bill at the present session is not expected.

DECISION AGAINST THE NORTHERN PACIFIC.

A case of considerable interest, in which the Northern Pacific Railroad claimed certain lands free from expenses of survey, etc., was decided by Secretary Teller to-day adversely to the railroad. The railroad set forth that, according to the original grant, it was not liable for the expenses of surveying, selecting and conveying lands, and that Congress had not the authority, by a subsequent act, to require such payment. Secretary Teller holds that Congress had such power, and orders that no further patents for lands shall be issued to the Northern Pacific Railroad until the amount due for patents already issued is paid, and also the expenses of conveying the patents to be issued; and directs that the Department shall not recognize any further selection of lands by the Northern Pacific until all the amounts charged against said company for the purposes mentioned are paid.

A Ring Fight Postponed.

PITTSBURGH, June 9.—Weiden and Malony, pugilists, who were to fight near Line Island, in the Ohio river, next Monday, announce the postponement of the mill until some future date on account of their threatened arrest. It is thought that this is only a ruse.

Accommodating the Differences Between the Strikers and the Mills.

CINCINNATI, June 9. — President Jarrett, of the Amalgamated Iron and Steel Workers, met with the striking workmen in this vicinity at Covington to-night. After hearing the case as presented by the men he delivered the opinion that their strike was not justifiable, and the men were bound to continue at work under the terms of the contract of last October with the manufacturers. The meeting agreed with Jarrett's views. To-morrow he will confer with the mill owners, and it is expected that the mills will be running again on Monday.

COAST DISPATCHES.

An Attempt to Swindle an Insurance Company.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 10.—The dismissal of the suit brought by Tully R. Wise, a lawyer of this city, against the Manhattan Life Insurance Company, to recover a policy on the life of Mariono Rubio to the amount of $15,000, brings out an interesting plot to swindle the company by a set of sharpers who furnished proofs of Rubio's death. A half interest in the policy had been assigned to Wise by Miguel Noe, a creditor of Rubio, for whose benefit the policy was originally made. A searching investigation succeeded in finding Rubio alive in Mexico, and he was brought to this city. Noe and Wise appear to have been imposed upon as to the proofs of death, and on being satisfied of Rubio's existence moved a dismissal.

REPUBLICAN MAJORITIES IN OREGON.

PORTLAND, June 10.—The average Republican majority on the State ticket is 1,800. George will not have less than 3,300 in the State—the largest majority ever given a candidate. Moody, for Governor, will have about 1,000 less. Republicans have the Legislature by a certain majority of ten, which may be increased to thirteen.

Floods in the Frazer.

VICTORIA (B. C.), June 10.—Floods in the Frazer river here are doing great damage. Valuable tracts of reclaimed lands are submerged. The railroad track is covered in many places, culverts are washed out and houses swept away. No loss of life reported.

AT STONE RIVER.

Col. Miller's Gallant Charge as told by the Little Orderly.

"Get on your horse, go back across the river and hunt up Gen. Palmer, Gen. Negley, Gen. Rosecrans, or any other general you can find, and tell him I can't stop these men—all—can't stop them," and then sotto voce, "and I don't want to stop them, either!"

The little orderly was not slow to leave the exposed position between the lines of the victorious Union troops and the discomfited but hard-fighting Confederates, where his duty to his chief had carried him, to hasten back with the message. When he did deliver it, it had the desired effect—there was doubtless something in the ring of the words, although they certainly must have lacked a great deal, minus the flashing of the dark eyes and the triumphant tone of the voice with which Col. Miller gave them. It had the effect, for instantly regiments, brigades and divisions began to pour hurriedly over the river in the wake that Miller had so valiantly and so suddenly cut through the enemy's lines, so that a half-hour had not elapsed before the fruits of the splendid dash had been secured, and Bragg's buglers had sounded the retreat; and ten hours later Shelbyville, twenty-eight miles away, was filled to overboiling with a Confederate army fresh from the defeat at Murfreesboro, while the Army of the Cumberland had acquired time to grumble at short rations and begin to wonder how it had happened that in the dash of a sword the apparently unattainable had been attained.

* * * * * *

If I may be permitted, without shocking the purists too much, to paraphase Shakespeare, I would like to say that "some men are born soldiers; some achieve soldierly attainments; and some have the name of soldiers" (as we learned in the late war to our sorrow! Great Heavens, yes, my friend!) "thrust upon them." It happened that the man for this occasion was born a soldier, although he had lived thirty years without suspecting it. It wasn't that "Lis practiced eye" showed him the danger and the one extremely hazardous way there was of meeting and defeating it—for his experience in war had comprised less than two years—but it was the instinct of a true soldier born within him that told John F. Miller, then a colonel commanding one of Negley's brigades, just precisely what to do, and it was something more than a soldier's courage that prompted him to act without hesitation or loss of time to reckon up the cost.

The situation was just like this: On the left bank of the river stood the victorious enemy, flushed and arrogantly confident. Confronting him was a division comprising not more than one-third his strength, and the junior brigade commander sitting on his horse debating what was best to be done. He (Miller) had already asked permission to go over to Van Cleve's relief, but it had been refused. None of his seniors were at hand. Should he stay where he was and content himself with a musketry duel across the stream till such time as the enemy chose to charge across, and then attempt with his comparatively puny force to engage Breckenridge hand to hand? He knew that he could not maintain so unequal a contest as that would have been. He knew that once the enemy got across and our line was broken, the drubbing of Wednesday might be repeated—only in all probability it might be a thousand times worse. He knew that right behind him lay fifty-eight guns, fully one-third of all the artillery in the Army of the Cumberland, for the moment useless, because the enemy were too near at hand—a tempting prize almost sure to fall into Breckenridge's hands if he once crossed the stream. In short, he saw that everything, almost, was at stake.

The conformation of the ground on the right bank of the river at the point where Miller sat cogitating was such that, while there were no troops there except Negley's division, from all that could be seen by the enemy on the left bank the whole Army of the Cumberland might be there waiting—and this may, in part, have caused the enemy to make his brief halt, instead of following Van Cleve pell-mell. Sending Lieutenant (now Brevet Brigadier General) Henry M. Cist to get permission to charge, Miller, gathered up his strength. It was a fearful thing to contemplate. He was the junior brigade commander, and of course could only rely on the support of his own brigade of four regiments—at most he could not count on more than the division, numbering then not more than 3,000 men, or at the best 3,500. What would be the chances of success in case he charged with that force, wading a stream under a heavy fire and chal enging a hand-to-hand fight with an enemy having clearly three times his strength? There was about one chance in fifty that he would drive the enemy back; forty-nine chances that his men even if he got them across the stream, would beat themselves like spray upon a rock against the serried columns of the enemy, when, of course the disaster begun with Van Cleve would redouble and taking fresh head, go on to complete rout forty-nine chances to one that, if he did not get permission to charge, he would lose his official head (he didn't stop, of course, to reckon up the risk to his life) and have his career as a patriotic soldier cut short with an almost irredeemable disgrace. On the other hand, what else could be done? There was but one hope—everything else was against him—and that was that the enemy, seeing him make a bold charge with his small force, would imagine that he had the whole army back of him, and become sufficiently demoralized to allow him to drive them back far enough for the artillery to begin to play on them; then certainly help would come. It would be a grand essay of nerve. The enemy would argue that no man would have the temerity to charge under such circumstances. It was a desperate chance—and he took it. Without waiting for Cist's return he gave the order to charge, led the way himself, and the turning point of the battle of Stone River was at hand! Midway of the stream Cist reached him, saying that Gen. Palmer, the first general officer he had encountered, whose division lay perhaps a quarter of a mile to the rear of Negley's, had peremptorily forbidden the charge.

"It is too late now," shouted Miller, his eyes blazing with the fire of battle, (and I certainly never saw a man's eyes blaze as did his in battle,) and on the men went, holding up their cartridge-boxes to keep them from getting wet, and altogether showing such cool determined courage that the round-eyed Confederates grew demoralized and drew back. Then, with a shout that told of the recognition of the long delayed opportunity to "get even," the blue coats swarmed up the bank, loading and firing like demons, falling like leaves, too, before the hot fire of the enemy; pushing, panting, at first slowly and then faster and faster as the enemy yielded, till at last the artillery from the right bank got the range, and raised a hell of shrieking discord with shot and shell and the repulse became a retreat, and the retreat a disordered route. The day was won—Murfreesboro, the prize for which Rosecrans and Bragg had contended for weary days, was practically in our grasp.

Once again, just as we reached the left bank, came an order from General Palmer—this time, I think, borne by Major Tedford, also of Miller's staff, now of the Sixth Auditor's office—not to attempt to charge. In Wednesday's fight, in the never-to-be-forgotten "Cedars," Miller had received a flesh wound in the neck. On Friday this wound had become very painful, of course, and the young Colonel's neck was so stiff that he could not turn his head; he was compelled to move his whole body. This was very inconvenient on horseback, and to remedy the matter he dismounted and strode on foot to the front of his line, where his flashing sword pointed his men the way to victory. Here again one of Palmer's staff officers brought him an order to "recross the river and re-form his men." Then it was that he turned to his orderly and gave him the message to take back, in the words which stand at the opening of this article.

In point of fact Miller was followed in the charge by the Twenty-first Ohio, the Seventy-eighth Pennsylvania, the Seventy-fourth Ohio, and fragments of the Eighteenth Ohio, Thirty-seventh Indiana and Nineteenth Illinois—in all, certainly not more than 2,000 men. It was a desperate chance, and he took it. It was a hazardous game, and he won it, and if you will keep your eyes on him will find that the same soldierly instinct that made him seize this opportunity is still with him, and that in politics and statesmanship they will stand him in just as good stead.—W. J. Vance in the Washington Herald.

CALICO DISTRICT.

C. H. Sweetman, Esq., himself an experienced practical miner, is pleased to post us on the outlook at Calico. He thinks it will become one of the richest camps on the continent. The ores are chloride, entirely free of base metal, and lie in immense quantities immediately on the surface in many places. There is no quartz in the camp, the chlorides being principally in spar where not liberated by decomposition. Mr. S. says there are about four hundred people now in the camp, and the present influx is so great he anticipates seeing not less than five thousand there by next Christmas. Every inch of the ground immediately about the camp is taken up, but there are good prospects being daily found in the adjacent hills. Mr. Sweetman's report is most gratifying.

IMMIGRATION.

Members of trades unions complain that their handicrafts are suffering from excessive arrivals of skilled laborers from Europe. By excessive arrivals we shall be understood to mean arrivals to such a much greater amount than are required that, under the law of supply and demand, wages will be ruinously reduced. This excess of supply naturally conflicts seriously with the objects of strikers who are claiming an advance in wages, or resisting a reduction,—mostly the former. Hence, by way of cutting the Gordian knot, it has been proposed to secure the passage of a law by the Legislature of Pennsylvania making it a penal offense to import workmen from place to place."

The above, from a New Orleans paper, we copy to show the spread the anti-immigration sentiment is obtaining. And as labor becomes scarcer, so will the feeling grow in intensity. We shall watch the future, and the efforts now making by eastern laborers to free themselves from their dilemma between oppressive capitalists on the one hand and a plentiful supply of new cheap labor on the other with great interest.

ANIMUS OF THE CONVENTION.

Notwithstanding the Democratic Convention passed a resolution in favor of the nomination of Gen. Stoneman for Governor, the gubernatorial nomination cut but a very small figure in that body. The contest was over the Judgeship. The friends of Sepulveda and Ross occupied all the attention, and some of them glowered upon each other not unlike the manner of the wild "beasts of Ephesus." A friend remarked that the forces of the latter were well handled and came to time at every call, but they were too few—Sepulveda scoring twelve to Ross' three. From this convention the contest will be transferred to the State gathering on the 20th inst. Meantime if anything can be done in the way of bagging each other's votes, it will be done.

DISAPPOINTED.

The League of Freedom organization will possibly feel disappointed that the Democratic Convention did not resolutionize the Sunday law off the statute books. And but for the intemperate and coarse remark of its Chairman, the convention would not have had a word to be ashamed of on the subject, and would have left the leaguers wondering who their friends were.

NOT A CATTLE TRADER.

We are informed that yesterday several delegates gave Judge Ross to understand that they were for him for a suitable consideration. He very dignifiedly gave them to understand he was not in the cattle business! They had to look to some other quarter for a purchaser.

GRADING FINISHED.

We are informed the grading on the Colton and San Diego branch road is all completed. We presume there are bridges yet to build, and it will be some time yet before the iron horse can make the trip through.

AT the meeting of the National Association of Superintendents of Lunatic Asylums at Cincinnati, last week, Dr. Fisher of Boston read an elaborate argument to show that Guiteau is and has been insane.

UNDER the new Constitution all voters must be registered every year. It is not necessary to procure transfers. Every American citizen should see to it that he is registered immediately.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES

Page Gives a Good Talk on River and Harbor Appropriations.

A Boom in Public Lands—The Missouri Bank Robbers—An Incestuous Father—Rain at San Bernardino.

Associated Press Dispatches.]

WASHINGTON, June 10.—Representative Page in his report accompanying the river and harbor bill says: "The bill deals liberally with all such works as will largely and generally facilitate the commerce of the Nation by opening the great water ways of the country to free navigation. The committee believe that at no time in the history of our government have the people so unanimously demanded of Congress such liberal appropriations for rivers and harbors, and that at no time in its history has the United States treasury been in such a condition as to warrant such large expenditures in this direction for the public good, and that it is of infinite importance for the protection of the public from undue exactions of railroad companies that the great natural highways of commerce, the rivers of the country, should be placed in the best condition to compete with them. The committee believes it is the desire of the people rather than reduce the taxes upon the luxuries of life, as has been contemplated by this House, that relief be given to them by large appropriations for internal improvements; that surplus revenues should be expended for the benefit of such sections as are most in need of such improvements, so that long-neglected industries and the commerce of the South may be properly stimulated, and those of all other portions of the United States may have needed relief.

THE GENERAL LAND OFFICE.

According to Commissioner McFarland of the General Land Office, a larger amount of public lands will have been disposed of during the year ending June 30th, 1882, than during any other year since the establishment of the General Land Office.

HOUSE PROCEEDINGS.

The House went into Committee of the Whole and resumed consideration of the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill.

WINDOM COMMITTEE.

The Windom Committee is postponed until Wednesday.

A CHANGE.

NEW YORK, June 10.—The Post's Washington special says: It is understood that Secretary Folger is determined upon a change in the office of Superintendent of Engraving and Printing.

The Missouri Bank Robbers.

ST. LOUIS, June 10.—A Post-Dispatch special from Brookfield says a special train with the bank robbers, in charge of Marshal McArthur and fifty men, arrived there at 10:50 P. M. There was a great crowd, but no demonstration. The prisoners identified are three brothers, formerly of this county. The fourth is a stranger. They a e all rough looking fellows. Mason's wife has gone under escort to recover the $14,000. The gold is hidden under a house. The prisoners were taken to Linnen's this morning. They will plead guilty.

Kicking Against Imported Labor.

CUMBERLAND, Tenn., June 10—This morning the train men at Ectanart refused to transport the coal mined by imported labor. The company have two engines at work this morning. They say the positions will be supplied with willing men Monday.

Wheeler Declines.

NEW YORK, June 10.—A Post special from Malone says Ex Vice-President Wheeler declines the appointment on the Tariff Commission for the rerson that h's health will not permit the task.

Another Beastly Father.

EUREKA (Nev.), June 10.- A twelve-year-old girl, Minnie Eustice, this afternoon swore out a complaint against her father, James Eustice, for incest. Her mother died the 5th of last November, and just one week afterwards he violated her by force, and has been guilty of the same foul deed repeatedly since. Before the complaint had been sworn out, fearing that he might be lynched by the outraged community, he ran away on foot through the sage-brush towards the Central Pacific Railroad. A force of officers are in pursuit of him. It is in all its details a horrible affair, and the feeling here is so bitter against the unnatural father that it is not unlikely, if he is brought back to-night, an effort may be made to snatch him from the Sheriff and hang him.

Waiting for the Pittsburg Scale.

CINCINNATI, June 10.—After a conference this morning the men in the iron mills agreed to go to work Monday at prices the same as when they quit work, and so remain until a scale is fixed at Pittsburg, which will be adopted here.

An Envelope Factory on Fire.

ROCKVILLE, Conn., June 10.—White, Corbin & Co's envelope works were damaged by fire and water to the extent of $100,000. Insured for half.

Specie Exports.

NEW YORK, June 10.—Specie exports to-day, $750,000, silver bars.

Mysterious Foundering.

NEW YORK, June 10.—Reports are received of the mysterious foundering of the British steamer Penedo, May 8th, near Porte Santo, in the Maderia Islands, in a moderate head sea. She cracked amidship, her deck started up, and she foundered in two minutes. Of a crew of twenty-six four were drowned. The others escaped in boats.

A Horrible Freak.

CHICAGO, June 10.—Casper Syeboldt, a baker, works nights. Last night when he left home his wife began preparations for a horrible deed. They had four children, aged twelve, seven, two and a half years, and one four months old. She dressed them in clean white clothes with bright ribbons, gave them strychnine and when they died laid them out carefully with flowers in their hands, and all the surroundings were made as beautiful as possible. Then she took a dose of poison herself, having put on a white chemise with ribbons in it. When her husband appeared at the door she told him to come in and see the children, all dead and gone to heaven. One of the children was alive, but has since died. Mrs. Syeboldt died about seven this morning.

Taking It all Back.

NAPA, June 10.—The report sent yesterday, charging Steward of the Napa Asylum with irregularities in his accounts, proves to have been premature, and grew out of a careless statement made to one of our local papers by a member of the Board of Trustees, conveying an erroneous impression. Nothing has been found in Steward's account reflecting upon that gentleman's faithfulness.

Fatal Accident.

SAN DIEGO, June 10.—Captain Alfred H. Seal was instantly killed at six o'clock this evening at J. Russ & Co.'s lumber yard. He was building a launch there, and a heavy piece of lumber that was being hoisted up broke loose, and struck him on the side of the head, probably breaking his neck.

Indian Doings.

FORT THOMAS, A. T., June 10.—News having been received that a party of Indians had driven off from the ranch of Mr. Samaniego, at Point of Mountain, twenty-five head of horses, Col. Brackett sent out Lieutenant McKay with a company of the Third Cavalry to scout the Aravapa canyon in search of the hostiles. No report has yet been received from him. A party of friendly Indians stampeded a part of the mule herd belonging to the post last night near the Apache crossing of the Gila river. After vigorous effort the mules were recaptured.

Ye Oldest Inhabitant Surprised.

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., June 10.—Our people have been treated to a good solid rain for the past two nights and part of yesterday, with showers still continuing this morning. Old residents express themselves as surprised, only one instance of this kind being known to have happened here before so late in the season. Our fruit interests will be largely benefited thereby, which always had promised a good harvest.

TAYLOR DIES.

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., June 10.—Taylor died this morning at 8 A. M., after a long siege of desperate suffering and two desperate attempts on his life.

An Extensive Fire.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 10.—The fire at Bolla has extended to the Naptha Wells and is only likely to cease when the material is exhausted.

Troubles in Russia:

ST. PETERSBURG, June 10.—Peasants again attacked the house of Count F. Bobrinski. A sanguinary conflict ensued and several persons were killed in the house.

Drafted into the Army.

LONDON, June 10.—Three hundred soldiers were drafted into the army in th district where Burke was shot.

THE WEEK AT SANTA ANA.

The work of preparing the foundation for the Commercial Bank building and for that of Mr. Titchenal commenced yesterday.

Mr. J. N. Hewes, of Santa Ana, has been elected by the Board of Supervisors a member of the County Board of Education. A good choice.

The substantial brick foundation for Mr. Jacob Loew's warehouse, near the depot, is rapidly approaching completion.

We understand the Good Templars are preparing for a dramatic entertainment, for the benefit of their Lodge here, and will be assisted by the Mathesian Dramatic Club, whose performances have given the public so much pleasure.

We are under obligations to Mr. L. W. Riley, of Orange, for the first apricots of the season, presented to us last Saturday. The variety is Parker's Early, and they come into market at least ten days earlier than the much vaunted Riverside apricots.

We were shown yesterday, by Mr. W. H. Spurgeon, a little steam engine, perfect in all its parts, and beautifully finished, the work of a young gentleman just from the East. The engine is made almost entirely by hand, and stamps the maker of the little beauty a thorough mechanic.

The following were the exports from the Santa Ana depot during the week ending June 9th: Lemons, 106 boxes, 6,985 pounds; oranges, 10 boxes, 690 pounds; eggs, 61 cases, 3,600 pounds; corn, 420 pounds; potatoes; 204 sacks, 21,990 pounds, sheep, 5 cars, 100,000 pounds; lambs, 5 cars, 100,000 pounds; coal, 2 cars, 56,000 pounds; merchandise. 7,630 pounds. Total, 315,655 pounds.

A number of the fruit growers of the valley met in Orange last Saturday and organized the Santa Ana Valley Horticultural Society, electing the following officers: A. Halladay, President; Joel Parker, Vice-President, J. S. Collins, Secretary; S. W. Preble, Treasurer. Monthly meetings are to be held in Santa Ana, Orange and Tustin.

The cheese factory of Mr. Coocke, near the Bolsa Grande school house, is now turning out about one hundred and fifty pounds of cheese daily, and it is intended to largely increase its capacity, as a market has been opened for all that can be manufactured. The bulk of the cheese turned out will be shipped to Woodhead & Gay, Los Angeles, who offered to handle it all, after having tested the cheese and found it excellent.

Children's Day.

To-day is universally set apart by Methodists as a day of especial service for children, in which the younger portion of humanity will receive particular attention. The Fort street church has been so elaborately and beautifully decorated with flowers that nature seems to have been transferred to within doors. A fountain and birds will add to the attractions. Services will be held at 11 A. M., 2 and 7:30 P. M. All are invited.

Farmers and Merchants.

This morning the TIMES presents the statement of the Farmers & Merchants bank. All through the period of depression, when stout hearts quaked and capitalists were alarmed, this institution kept on in the even tenor of its way and has achieved success. A glance at its figures will assure anyone of its reliability, and we would say that the present would be a splendid time to make a run on it. They make a cash exhibit of $1,013,531.

Major Dane's Lecture.

On Tuesday evening next the citizens of Los Angeles will have an opportunity to hear the story of the great naval battles of the Rebellion from one who participated in some of the most important. The fight of the little Monitor and rebel ram, the midnight runs past the forts below New Orleans and the batteries at Port Hudson, with the last and greatest of all, the battle of Mobile Bay, where the old Sea King led his fleet through terrific batteries over four miles of torpedoes, will be of the number selected for the lecture. Very few have any real idea how a man-of-war looks when it goes into action, much less how it is managed when in the fight; we shall now have an opportunity to learn something.

THE UNWASHED.

An Exciting Though Exceedingly "Harmonious" Contest.

Proceedings of the Democratic Convention to Elect Delegates to the State Convention.

The delegates to the Democratic County Convention assembled yesterday morning at Turnverein hall, and were called to order at 10:30 A. M., by the President of the County Central Committee, J. DeBarth Shorb, who read the call for the Convention by the Committee as published in their local organs.

Dr. Joseph Kurtz was nominated and elected temporary Chairman.

M. E. Ryan and Conrad Jacoby were nominated as temporary Secretaries; Conrad Jacoby withdrew his name, and M. E. Ryan was elected.

Dr. J. Kurtz on assuming the chair made a short Democratic high-pressure speech. He proceeded to lay out the course of the Republican party, and predicted their defeat at the hands of the Democracy. Among other things, he said that a temperance and religious fanaticism had spread rapidly over the United States, and he believed that they have mastered the Republican party. If they acted harmoniously the whole state would go Democratic. And he wanted to call attention to one point in particular; and that is, that Democracy shall never be the knee-bending servant of monopoly.

C. White moved that a committee of five be appointed by the chair on credentials.

A motion to amend this motion, by making the committee number three, was lost by fifty-three noes against thirty-seven yeas.

The original motion was then carried.

R. F. Del Valle moved that a committee of five be appointed by the chair on permanent organization and order. Carried.

J. C. Morgan moved that a committee of five be appointed by the chair on platform and resolutions. Carried.

The following gentlemen were appointed on the Committee on Credentials: J. B. Holloway, Samuel Prager, B. A. Yorba, Charles E. Smith and Theodore Lynell.

The following named gentleman were appointed on the Committee on Permanent Organization and Order: T. S. Shaw, Sidney Lacy, L. G. Giroux, C. H. Watts, and D. Botiller.

The following gentlemen were appointed on the Committee on Platform and Resolutions: J. De Barth Shorb, George Hinds, Levi Fickas, Jacob Kuhrts and B. Cohn.

Messrs. Shorb and Cohn withdrawing, J. C. Morgan, as Chairman, and A. E. Sepulveda were appointed by the chair to fill the vacancies made by the resignation.

S. M. White suggested that delegates hand their credentials to the Secretary during the recess.

Adjourned till 1 P. M.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Convention was called to order at 1:30 P. M. Temporary President, Dr. Joseph Kurtz, in the chair.

The Secretary read the report of the Committee on Credentials, who reported the following delegates entitled to the floor:

THE REPORT.

To the Democratic County Convention, Los Angeles County:

Your Committee on Permanent Organization and Order of Business, respectfully report,

I.

That the permanent officers shall consist of a Chairman, two Vice-Presidents, Secretary, Assistant Secretary, and six Sergeants-at-Arms, and suggest for said permanent officers as follows: Dr. Kurtz, Chairman; J. B. Holloway, first Vice-President; J. De Barth Shorb, second Vice-President; M. E. Ryan, Secretary; F. W. Schander, James Harrington, G. C. Davis, G. D. Buckley, W. Madigan, Adolph Celis, Sergeants-at-Arms.

II.

That the order of business be as follows:

1. Report of Committee on Credentials and consideration thereof.
2. Roll call.
3. Report of Committee on Permanent Organization and Order of Business, and consideration of that part relative to permanent organization.
4. Election of permanent officers.
5. General business.
6. Report of Committee on Platform and Resolutions.
7. Election of delegates to the State Convention.
8. Adjournment sine die.

III.

That a quorum of the convention for the transaction of any business that may be brought before it shall be a majority of the members reported by Committee on Credentials.

1. That the apportionment of the Los Angeles county delegation to the Democratic State Convention among the several voting precincts of the county shall be as follows: First district, 6 delegates; second district, 3 delegates; third district, 3 delegates; fourth district, 3 delegates; total, 15 delegates.

2. That said delegates shall be placed in nomination before the whole convention, and shall be elected by a majority vote of a quorum of the said convention.

3. That in the nomination and election of said State delegates the convention shall consider each supervisor district separately.

4. That in the election of said delegates the voting shall be viva voce by precincts, the chairman of each precinct delegation announcing the vote of his precinct when the name of his precinct shall be called by the secretary.

THEODORE S. SHAW, Chairman.
SIDNEY LACY,
D. BOTILLER.

MINORITY REPORT.

LOS ANGELES, June 10.

To the Democratic Convention:

I agree to the majority report except the last clause, which requires a viva voce vote in electing delegates to the State Convention, and I am in favor of ballot. L. G. GIROUX.

The officers were then declared elected by a viva voce of the Convention as nominated by the committee.

The report was then acted on ad seriatim.

B. Cohn offered a resolution that a two-thirds majority be required to elect delegates to the State Convention, instead of a simple majority. Lost.

The following resolution was offered by Theodore Lynill:

Resolved, That the delegates to the State Convention be elected by Supervisorial districts, three delegates from each district except the first district, which shall be entitled to six. That the delegates so elected by such Supervisorial districts shall be the delegates to the State Convention, and the Convention at large shall have no power to change them or any of them, and they shall be ratified by the Convention at large.

Here began a discussion of nearly three hours in length, in which the contest between the Ross and Sepulveda factions was as hot as the shades of Gehenna. Stephen M. White, Theodore Lynell, H. M. Mitchell, J. De Barth Shorb, B. Cohn, and others spoke forcibly and eloquently for the supervisorial representation.

J. B. Holloway, R. F. Del Valle, J. G. Estudillo, J. C. Morgan, W. W. Jenkins, Theodore S. Shaw and others plead for convention representation. At one moment, so fierce did the fight become that an effort was made to call Lynill off the floor. At another moment Estudillo advanced to the chair, despite the latter's repeated calling him to order, and told the Chairman he was wrong and out of order. Jenkins accused Lynill of wanting to boss the convention, which the latter stoutly denied. Lynill said the fight was rather between Hearst and Stoneman, monopolies and farmers, than between Ross and Sepulveda. When the vote came it showed the strength of the respective Ross and Sepulveda parties. The vote stood fifty-four ayes and sixty-five noes. The Ross party had sustained a defeat.

Several ballots were taken upon the question of the method of balloting for delegates to the State Convention, and it was finally decided to vote viva voce.

A motion was then made by S. M. White that the order of business as a whole be adopted as amended. Carried.

At 4:30 P. M. a recess of half an hour's duration was announced.

AFTER RECESS.

Immediately upon the re-assembly of the convention after recess, it was evident that a mighty change had taken place. A young Democratic millennium had arrived and the "Ross" lambs laid down with the "Sepulveda" lions, and a little child led them. The mighty storm of passion and heated debate that had swept over the audience like a hot blast from the Mojave plains on our orange groves, had subsided to almost a perfect calm, except some slight ripples of strife that broke up the political beach. An hour before the convention might be likened to a great balloon ascending heavenward in its majesty, now it was like a collapsed bag, with its gas all gone. Instead of the numerous objections at every technicality, instead of the protracted debate at every trifling point, instead of the personal vindictiveness that had almost come to blows several times, there was a decidedly forced and grim harmony—the kind that exists between the patient and dentist at a tooth-pulling bee. The delegates had been nominated in the segregated councils of the supervisorial districts during the recess, and now, as each district was called, the nominations were made, the convention quietly voted the same, and the President's hammer fell like that of an actioneer's as it announced the result. Whence the change? Nothing can account for it unless it be

A COMPROMISE

During the recess between the contending hosts, for fear that the strong leaders of the respectable minority might bolt the convention. Therefore, to preserve harmony it was necessary to give way somewhat to the minority, and allow the Ross men to send three of their best men out of the fifteen delegates to the San Jose Convention. The solid Sepulveda delegation is thus broken.

The following report was made by the committee on platform and resolutions, and was read by Stephen M. White:

PLATFORM AND RESOLUTIONS.

WHEREAS, It has been the time honored principle of the Democratic party that the will of the people shall be expressed fully at all times and under all circumstances, either in their individual capacity at the ballot-box, or through their representatives in all deliberative bodies, and believing that the unit rule, emanating as it has, from the Republican party, the party of centralization, consolidation and monopoly, tends to promote and advance the interests of the monopolistic corporations of the present day by the creation of machine votes, to be guided and directed by political bosses of corporations,

Whereas, This convention, and the Democracy of Los Angeles county, represented by its members, have all confidence in the honesty and integrity of purpose of the gentlemen to be elected to represent the county in the Democratic State Convention to be held at San Jose on June 20th, 1882, Therefore be it

Resolved, That it is the expressed wish of this convention that each and every delegate to the State Convention shall represent the interest of this county, and the Democracy of the State, unbiased, and unhampered by any instructions from this convention relative to a choice for nominees of the party on the State or district ticket, and that each delegate singly, and upon his own judgment, shall act for the best interests of the party in accordance with the dictates of his own conscience.

Resolved, That the Democracy of Los Angeles county, through its representatives in convention assembled, reiterate its unfaltering antagonism to monopoly corporations and Chinese immigration.

Resolved, That the Democracy of Los Angeles, view with pride and fully endorse the action of the Democratic party in the National Congress upon the Chinese question.

GEORGE HINES,
J. KUHRTS,
A. SEPULVEDA,
LEVI FICKAS,
J. C. MORGAN.

The following are the delegates elect:

First District—M. E. Ryan, J. C. Morgan, Jacob Kuhrts, S. Prager, J. Luz Machado and Sidney Lacy.

Second District—Theodore S. Shaw, L. L. Bequette and J. B. Holloway.

Third District—J. DeBarth Shorb, Stephen M. White and Theo. Lynill.

Fourth District—W. H. Spurgeon, M. J. Wicks and H. W. Head.

The following was offered as an amendment to the platform:

Resolved, That the sentiment of the Democracy of Los Angeles county is in favor of General George Stoneman for Governor.

This called forth an animated discussion as to its meaning, which was decided and explained to be merely suggestive and advisory, not mandatory. It was then adopted.

The convention then adjourned sine die.

The People of the State of California send greeting to Jacob M. Rogers, Leonard Ladd and Thomas Williams, Defendants:

You are hereby required to appear in an action brought against you by the above named plaintiff in the Superior Court of the State of California, in and for the county of Los Angeles, and to answer the complaint filed therein, within ten days (exclusive of the day of service) after the service on you of this Summons—if served within this county; or, if served elsewhere, within thirty days—or judgment by default will be taken against you according to the prayer of said complaint.

The said action is brought to obtain a decree of this Court for the foreclosure of a certain mortgage described in the said complaint, and executed by the said Jacob M. Rogers for the balance remaining due, and also that the defendant and all persons claiming by, through or under them may be barred and foreclosed of all right, title, claim, lien, equity of redemption and interest in and to said mortgaged premises, and for other and further relief. Reference is had to complaint for particulars.

And you are hereby notified that if you fail to appear and answer the said complaint as above required, the said plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded in the said complaint.
